

Read these jokes and relax your mind.

Patient: Doctor, do you think that I will live until I am a hundred yrs old?

Doctor: Do you smoke or drink?

Patient: No.

Doctor: Do you drive fast cars, gamble, or play around with women?

Patient: Certainly no.

Doctor: Then what do you want to live to a hundred for?

The proud mother was showing off her new baby to her friend. "Doesn't he look just like his father?" Asked the mother; Yes. Replied the friend, but you shouldn't worry too much; he'll probably change for the better as he gets older.

He: There are an awful lot of girls who don't want to get married.

She: How do you know?

He: I've asked them.

Teacher: Who were the first human beings?

Pupil: Adam and Eve.

Teacher: And what nationality were they?

Pupil: Hindus, of course.

Teacher: And how do you know they were Hindus?

Pupil: Easy; they had no roof over their heads, no clothes to wear and only one apple between them - and they called it Paradise.

A woman begins by resisting a man's advances, and ends by blocking his retreat. -

Oscar Wilde: You can always tell when a man is well informed when his views are pretty much like your own. -Louis Morris

Life is one long process of getting tired. - Samuel Butler

The love that lasts longest is the love which is never returned. - Somerset

Maugham

Two employers were talking. Said one; "I fear that young man I employed last week as a cashier is dishonest." Oh! Replied the other, " you shouldn't judge by appearances." I'm not. I'm judging by disappearances!

A not-too-bright candidate for the police force failed in the written examination. Since he was the Chief's nephew, the examiner decided to go easy on him with the oral test. "Who shot Abraham Lincoln?" asked the examiner. The candidate pondered for a moment and then asked if he could have some time to come up with the answer. The examiner told him to come back the next morning. When the would-be recruit went home, his wife asked; well, how did it go? Did you get the job? I think so, he replied. They have already got me working on a case.

A salesman was dismissed because he was rude to a customer. A month later the sales manager spotted him walking about in a police uniform. I see you've joined the force Bhavnagar, said the sales manager. Yes Sir. This is the job I've been looking for all my life. Here the customer is always wrong.

Customer: Why are the signs in your window so full of spelling and grammatical mistakes? Storekeeper: So that people think I am a fool and come in expecting to get the best of me. Since I put up those signs, business has boomed.

Little Johnny was practicing the violin in the living room, while his father was trying to read. The family dog was at there too and on hearing the screeching sounds, began to howl. Johnny's father listened to the dog and the violin for as long as he could. Then he jumped up, slammed his newspaper on the floor and yelled. For God's sake, can't you play something the dog doesn't know?

The sign on the door of a lawyer's chamber reads: Where there is a will, there is a way; where there is a way, there is law; where there is law, there is a rule; where there is a rule, there is a loophole; where there is a loophole; there is a lawyer; and so here I am.

A man, who had just died arrived at heaven's gate. Before allowing him to enter, St. Peter asked him if he'd ever loved a woman. No, the man replied, not a single one. Did you have a friend you cared for? No. Perhaps you loved a pet? No. Did you not feel a love for nature? No. What took you so long to get here? asked a surprised St. Peter. You've been dead for ages.

Maid: What do you want sir?

Visitor: I want to see your master.

Maid: What's your business please?

Visitor: There is a bill.

Maid: Ah! He left yesterday for his village.

Visitor: Which I have to pay him.

Maid: And he returned this morning.

A small farm boy was milking his cow when all of a sudden a bull came charging towards him. As horrified workers nearby watched, the boy calmly continued his milking. To everyone's astonishment, the bull stopped a few inches from the boy, turned around and walked away. Weren't you afraid? One of the workers asked the boy. Not at all, the boy replied, I knew this cow was his mother-in-law.

A patient complains to a famous psychologist: Professor, I've been having terrible obsessions for years, and no one has ever been able to help me. Who's been treating you until now? Dr Lal Rathor. I see he's heck of an idiot and I am curious to know what he advised you to do. He told me to come and see you.

A man was driving well above the speed limit when a police car suddenly emerged from behind, sirens blaring. Thinking he'd outpace the cop, the man pushed his accelerator to the floor. His car's speed rose to sixty, then seventy, eighty, and ninety. Finally, the man thought, what the heck, and pulled over, ready to receive a speeding ticket. The police officer got out, leaned over the man and said; Listen, mister, I have had a really lousy day, and I just want to go home. Give me a good excuse and I'll let you go. The man thought for a moment and said: Three weeks ago my wife ran off with a police officer. When I saw your car in my mirror, I thought you were that officer and were trying to give her back to me. No ticket.